BOYS' RUSSIAN SUIT.

Paris Pattern No. 2624

All Seams Allowed.

A slight variation of the usual style of Russian blouse is here shown. The tunic is made with a "Gibson" tuck at the front and back, stitched from shoulder to hem, and the wide, full-length sleeves are plaited into cuff depth or finished with stitched wristbands. The hem-knickerbockers are gathered about the knees by elastic, run through the full-length of the trousers, and a stitched belt of material gives the popular long-waisted effect. The removable shield is embroidered in self-colored silk, and a bias trimming band of Scotch plaid gives a pretty and stylish effect. If desired, the wristbands may be of similar plaid. The pattern is in 6 sizes—2 to 7 years. For a boy of 5 years the suit requires 4 1/2 yards of material 27 inches wide, 3 yards 36 inches wide, or 2 yards 44 inches wide; as illustrated, 1/2 yard of plaid material 27 inches wide.

ACTORS SWELL FUND

Entertainment Is Financial and Artistic Success.

HEADLINERS ARE PERFORMERS

Sir Charles Wyndham Makes Short Address, Outlining Object of Actors' Fund, and Margaret Anglin Appears in One-act Sketch—Two Amateur Skits Applauded.

A benefit performance in aid of the Actors' Fund of America was given at the National yesterday afternoon, and, through the co-operation of all the professional troupes now in the city and representatives of two of those in Baltimore, an entertainment, successful alike from a financial and artistic point of view, was the result.

The management was fortunate in the selection of the different numbers, and it is doubtful if there has ever been a programme of this kind in the city that has included so many celebrities in their different lines of work.

Foremost in the list stood the names of Sir Charles Wyndham and Miss Margaret Anglin. The former merely made a short address to the audience, outlining the object of the Actors' Fund and appealing to the charity of the people to give to it as generously as they were able.

Commands Much Attention.

The appearance of Miss Anglin and her company in Alfred Suro's one-act sketch, "The Correct Thing," commanded much attention because the star will appear here next week and because of the tenderness of the plot and the splendid acting of the actress and her leading man, Eugene Ormonde, who will be remembered as a member of the stock company with Blanche Bates.

In "The Correct Thing," Miss Anglin had abundant opportunity to show her talent for the more emotional style of acting. Her reading of the lines of Kitty Bellamy was excellent. The play gives occasion for some good acting, both on the part of the star and of Mr. Ormonde.

Plays His Part Well.

Miss Anglin's transition from the earlier part of the piece, played in a somewhat light mood, to the end, which is highly emotional, was splendidly done and commanded much applause. Eugene Ormonde had a thankless part, but he played it well, and seemed at all times well within the picture. Other numbers were Mrs. O'Leary and company in a scene from the second act of "Baccarat," Trilix Friganzza, with a monologue and a couple of comic songs; six members of "A Skylark" company, singing some of the songs of the production; Flanagan and Edwards, from Chase's, with their sketch, "On and Off," the Seven Samals, acrobats, from the Lyceum; Bennett and Campbell and the Watson sisters, from the Gayety. Two amateur acts, which received fully as much applause as the professional ones, were a dancing specialty by Miss Elizabeth Forney and a cornet solo by Anna Teresa Berger.
